They could then include appropriate symbols, shading and colours to denote what is to be found in these places, e.g. mountains, rivers, lakes, castles, historical monuments, railways, caves, national parks etc. • Pupils could search for further information about particular aspects of Wales, e.g. historical buildings, modern-day sports, the eisteddfod, festivals, music etc. They could then share this information with others, design posters, leaflets and make and give a PowerPoint presentation about Wales if appropriate.

They could also make WANTED – YN EISIAU – and LOST – AR GOLL – posters, where they could use adjectives to describe the two men and / or Bob, e.g. Dau ddyn mawr. (Two large men.) Maen nhw'n gwisgo oferolys gwyn a balacafas du. (They're wearing white overalls and black balaclavas.) Mae'r dynion yn fawr. Mae un yn ... (The men are large. One is ...) Maen nhw'n ... (They're ...) • As Bob is seen singing the Welsh national anthem, pupils could learn this anthem – or at least the chorus.
